President's Message

Dear Alumni:

Thank you for allowing me to serve as your President this year. It has been an enjoyable and memorable experience serving as president and having the opportunity to work with all of you on various activities throughout the year. I am proud of what we have accomplished, but it has all passed by so quickly.

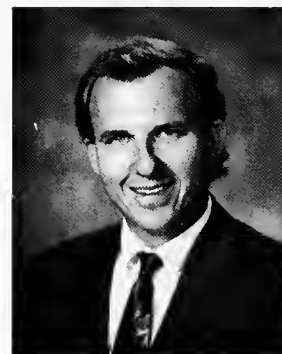

This year would not have been such a success without the support of each and every one of you. You have made Delta State what it is today. I urge you to continue supporting Delta State in any way you can; whether it is financially, assisting with a particular activity, serving on a committee or just spreading the word about Delta State. I would also like to thank the Alumni Board of Directors for your support and encouragement throughout the year. Your hard work brought about the many achievements we were able to realize this year.

Finally, I want to thank Don Skelton, Vicki Fioranelli and Brad Teague for their guidance and dedication to DSU. They and their staff make a great team. I ask that each of you thank them the next time you have an opportunity to do so.

This October 28th is Homecoming. Please make every effort to attend! We think that it will be the best ever. We are particularly excited about the entertainment scheduled for Saturday morning in the Performing Arts Center. I look forward to seeing everyone at Homecoming.

GO DELTA!

Student Government Presidents Plan Meeting

Seven SGA presidents were recently in Cleveland for the wedding of the '93 president, Chase Wright.

"We thought it was unique to have seven presidents together at one time. After talking to Dr. Wyatt, that prompted us to make plans to get all 20 presidents back for the MC game," says George Bassi, '87, of Laurel, chairman of the event.

"We hope all 20 of the SGA presidents who served during the Kent Wyatt years will return to campus on November 11," says Bassi. "This is the last year we will play Mississippi College as a Division II Gulf South Conference contender." Pictured below

Outstanding Alumnus 1995

Dr. James T. Rogers, a Cleveland native and former resident, has been named Delta State University's Outstanding Alumnus of the Year. He will be honored during Homecoming activities on October 28th.

Currently serving as chief executive officer of the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools in Decatur, Georgia, Rogers directs activities involving the ongoing accreditation of the approximately 800 degree-granting member and candidate institutions of the Commission on Colleges.

Rogers, a 1955 Delta State University graduate who earned a bachelors degree in biology, was named in 1985 to his present position after a 15-year career as president of Brenau College in Gainesville, Georgia.

Rogers lives in Gainesville with his wife, Pat, and their twin sons, James and Travis.

Service Awards Announced

Glover "Russ" Russell, president of the DSU Alumni Association, recently announced that the following are to be recognized at Homecoming '95 for outstanding service to Delta State:

Selected as the recipient for the Hugh Ellis Walker Service Award, presented annually to an alumnus, is Pete Peden ('63) of Cleveland.

Named as this year's recipients of the Gladys Castle Service Award, presented annually to a non-alumnus, are John McPherson of Indianola and Willard Samuels of Cleveland.

Wally Powell of Memphis will receive the Kent Wyatt Young Alumnus Service Award. The recipients will be recognized at the Homecoming luncheon on campus on October 28th.

Davidson Family Donates $300,000

Dr. L. Stacy Davidson and Mrs. Fay Spruill Davidson of Cleveland and sons John Stacy and Friley Spruill made one of the largest gifts ever to Delta State University when they announced a $300,000 endowed scholarship.

"It is Fay's and my desire that this scholarship be utilized to attract...the best to come to Delta State," Dr. Davidson said.

Alumni Scholarships

Two Hugh E. Walker scholarships have been awarded to children of DSU alumni. Matt Plitt of Plano, Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Plitt, '70 received the Student Alumni Association President's scholarship and Julia Denson of Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Denson '65, received the freshman scholarship. The alumni board recently voted to start two more alumni scholarships. Children of active alumni are eligible. For more information or to request an application, please contact Brad Teague at 601-846-4660, in the alumni office.

Chapter News

The East Mississippi Alumni Chapter met in Meridian at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Surles for a catfish fry. In Tupelo, the N.E. chapter dined at the historic Stables restaurant where Andy Pearson and Robin Carruth were elected officers. The Jackson shrimp boil boasted 120 alumni as David Dantone turned the gavel over to Beth Guest Embry, Melanie Coleman, Phil Dixon and Arthur Johnson.

Memphis area alumni feasted on traditional barbecue planned by Wendy Sorgen, Donna Toole and Carol Pleasants.

Otis Carollo, Greg Fahey and Dawn Ryan helped plan the Baton Rouge meeting. Jason and Robyn Meredith made arrangements for the Nashville meeting at the Cattleman's Club.

Delta State to Host St. Petersburg Symphony

Delta State will be the first stop for the St. Petersburg Symphony which will tour the state in February. The concert will be held in the new Performing Arts Center Building on February 21 and 22, 1996. The concert will be broadcast on Mississippi Educational Television. The purpose of the concert is to promote the "Palaces of St. Petersburg Exhibit" at the Mississippi Arts Pavillion in Jackson.

The DSU Alumni Association plans to arrange several tour groups to experience the exhibit. Call 601-846-4660 for details.

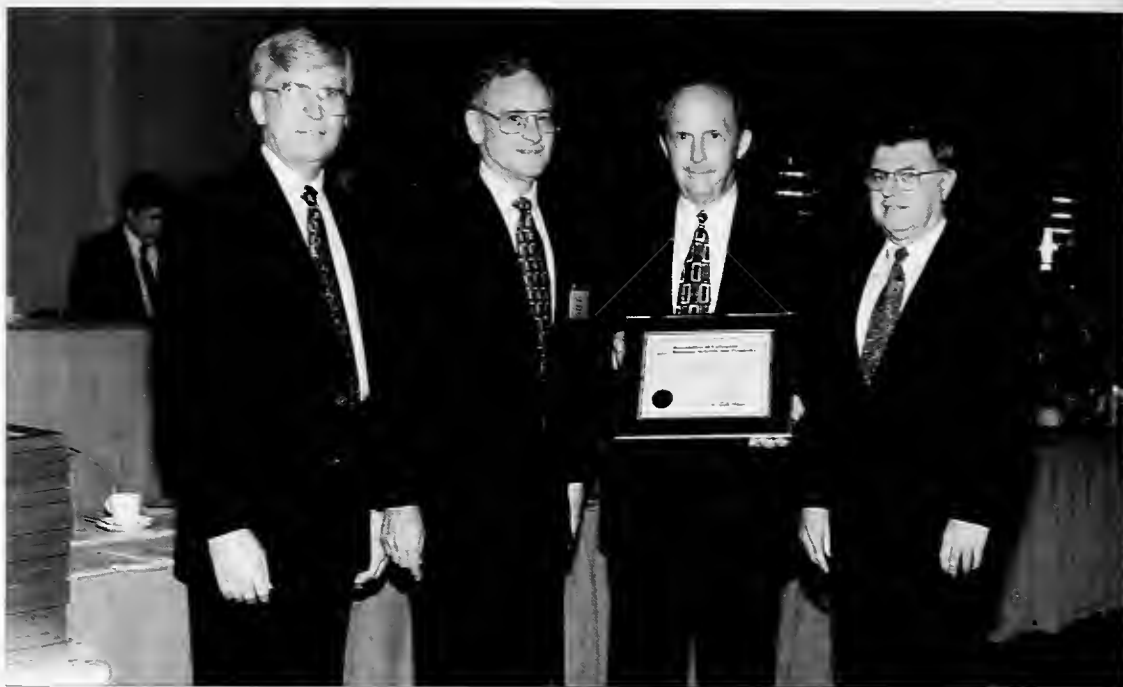

Are You A First?

George Ruffin ('48) of Clinton recently visited the campus and reported that he was the first student to enter Delta State on the GI Bill after World War II in 1945. If you were the first to accomplish something at DSU, please send the information (with documentation, if possible) to Delta Currents, Box 3104, Cleveland, MS 38733.

Yearbooks Requested.

The alumni office is seeking donations of past yearbooks. From time to time we need extra copies in planning reunions and events.

Requests also come to us from people who are missing treasured possessions from fire, accidents or other losses. The only year Delta State did not publish an annual was 1932 during the depression.

Older yearbooks are especially needed. Call the alumni office at 601-846-4705. P.S. We are also in need of 1995 annuals due to a shortage.

Did You Know?

During 1994-1995 the Music faculty and students performed 58 public on-campus recitals and concerts.

School of Business Receives National Accreditation

Delta State University's School of Business achieved a major goal when it received national accreditation by the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs.

"Many persons, not only in the School of Business, but from all over the campus, worked to help us achieve this recognition," said Dr. Roy Moore, Dean of the School of Business at Delta State.

ACBSP, based in Overland Park, Kansas, gave its approval to Delta State at a national meeting in Orlando, Florida.

"This accreditation action certifies that the teaching and learning processes within the University are ones of high quality, and meet the rigorous educational standards established by ACBSP," Dr. Moore said. "The accreditation certification by ACBSP covers a seven year period at which time we must reaffirm our quality by preparing a self-study and having another site visit."

Executive MBA Program Set For Delta State

Area Business professionals now have an added opportunity to obtain a master's degree in business administration through Delta State's Executive MBA Program.

Dr. Jerry Williams, coordinator of Graduate Studies for the School of Business at Delta State, said the program "is the only one of its kind between St. Louis and New Orleans."

The program is offered on alternate weekends to minimize work disruptions. "Classes meet from 6-10 p.m. on Fridays and 9 a.m.-1 p.m. on Saturdays," Dr. Williams explained. "We can provide a quality educational experience which features qualified faculty using a team-teaching approach. We offer an educational experience personalized to meet the business professionals needs."

The course of study takes approximately 24 months to complete unless foundation courses are required.

Campus Updates

Dr. James Steen, Professor of Biology, was among 18 faculty members from the United States participating in a summer study program at Oxford University in England.

Dr. Keith Pettway, Professor of Music, also studied and attended master class in England.

Dr. Ed Williams, Professor of Biology, was a visiting faculty member at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

Dr. Ed Bahr, Professor of Music, conducted the workshop on trombones at the International Trombone Workshop in Las Vegas.

Dr. David Schubert, Assistant Professor of Music, was selected to sing at the National Association of Teachers of Singing Convention in Seattle.

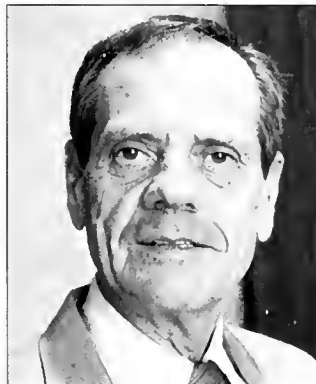

Dr. Henry Outlaw, Professor of Chemistry, received a grant to develop and teach a course on science and religion. He also was named "Outstanding Chemist in Mississippi" for 1995 by the American Chemical society.

Dr. Paula Norris, professor of mathematics, and Mr. Robert Waller, Instructor in Mathematics, received a grant to conduct a series of workshops on the applications of advanced scientific graphing calculators in college.

Dr. Hines Cronin, former superintendent of the Moss Point School District, is the new Director of Field Experiences and Coordinator of Teacher Education.

The Elliott-Nowell-White Science Symposium

The fourth annual Elliott-Nowell-White Science Symposium will be held on campus October 12 & 13, 1995. This symposium is only one aspect of the "Elliott Programs of Excellence" which was established by two of Delta State's alumni. Drs. Robert and Mary Elliott. They return each year for this event and work year long to provide enrichment opportunities to DSU students. Their program includes a ten-week summer fellowship opportunity in cancer research and academic scholarships. The Elliotts reside in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

The Elliott's are honored to have Dr. James Hardy as their distinguished guest and will dedicate this year's symposium in his honor for life-long contributions to Mississippi students and the medical community. The symposium will also honor the late H. L. Nowell for whom the symposium was named.

Delta State University and the Elliotts encourage your attendance and participation in the scheduled proceedings. For more information, call the DSU Alumni office.

Foundation Report

From the Foundation President

Dear Alumni and Friends,

This has been a great year for DSU, and I am happy to report that the $5 million capital development program that was started last fall is successfully on its way. We are projecting pledge commitments of $2 million for the endowment for medical and science,

$2 for the endowment of the Performing Arts, and $1 million for faculty and professional development endowment. All Foundation Board Members have made pledge commitments which, in the aggregate, total approximately $700,000. This is positive evidence of our commitment to this campaign.

The $8.5 million 1200-seat Performing Arts Center has been completed and the first main event featured Marvin Hamlisch on September 16th, which will be followed by other great performances. While state funds were used to build the center, the educational, cultural and entertainment costs will be funded through private endowments.

The Foundation continues to provide funds for faculty development, start-up grant funding, and for other outreach programs. This capital campaign will provide the Foundation additional funds which can be used for this purpose.

We should all be very proud of our university and the multitudes it has benefited. I am again asking those of you who have not contributed to this campaign to please consider joining those of us who have.

Louis Baioni
President, DSU Foundation, Inc.

A Tribute to H. L. Nowell

Shortly after I began work at Delta State University in 1971, I was visited by a balding, bespectacled gentleman with impeccable manners and a keen sense for tasteful dress. He introduced himself as H.L. Nowell, a longtime Delta State employee in a variety of positions, and offered his assistance in any way he could.

As the weeks and months passed, I found myself seeking the counsel of H.L. Nowell. He had quickly earned my respect as a man of high principle and total devotion to Delta State and the university family--especially the students.

We travelled together frequently those days on campus business. And it seems that everywhere we went someone was pulling me off to the side to tell me how much H.L. had meant to them. There was the former student who said H.L. paid his way through Delta State when his family experienced a financial crisis and also helped him financially during graduate school en route to acquiring his Ph. D. Another said H.L. bought him his first sports coat because he did not have one to wear to a ceremony where he was receiving an honor. Former cheerleaders talked about how H.L. used his car and paid expenses out of his pocket to help transport them to and from games.

H.L. Nowell

There were dozens of reports like these, but my favorite was by a former student who needed attention of another kind. As I recall the conversation, these were his words:

"H.L. knew that I was capable of doing far better in the classroom than I was doing. So he would hound me every day, wanting to make sure I had gone to class and that I had studied. I tried to avoid him, but that was impossible. I finally determined that it was easier to go to class and make the grades I was capable of than to avoid H.L. I'm glad he cared enough to worry me to death and cause me to do better."

H.L. had a creative eye and an appreciation of the finer things in life. H.L.'s now-famous Christmas tree was always popular with local children. Though he had no children of his own, H.L. delighted in the expression of the children as they marveled at the ornate and glowing shrine.

I don't know why H.L. wasn't bankrupt. He gave away a lot of what he made. His generosity is astonishing. I hear stories regularly of H.L.'s gifts--of time, attention and money.

It's too bad "H" never had children. He would have made a great dad. I know he made a great godfather. Shortly after my youngest son Bryan was born, he was to be christened in the Episcopal Church, and I needed to decide on a godfather. What better role model than H.L.--a man of class, taste, gentlemanly manners and a true love and concern for others. No godfather was prouder or fulfilled his role better. He never forgot birthdays, Christmas, Easter or any other holiday that would serve as an excuse to help spoil Bryan.

H.L. was very loyal and giving to those things he loved--Delta State, Calvary Episcopal Church, Kappa Alpha Order and his many friends.

It's easy for me to get sentimental about H.L.. Like all of those he touched, I miss him, but I know that my life is better by having known him. I'm sure that many of the DSU alums and friends who know "H" feel the same.

DSU Foundation Capital Campaign Passes $2 Million

Delta State University, which launched the largest capital campaign in its history last fall, has surpassed the $2 million mark in its Foundation Development Program campaign.

Dr. Don Skelton, Director of Alumni and the DSU Foundation, said, "I am pleased that the current campaign to raise $5 million has generated such great support among those here in the Delta."

The Foundation and the University are directing their greatest efforts toward creating endowments for program enhancements and in areas not supported by public funds.

These objectives include goals of $2 million endowment to enhance the University's science programs, a $2 million programming endowment to support the new Performing Arts Center and a $1 million faculty professional development fund.

"Our new Performing Arts Center is celebrating its grand opening season," Skelton said. "Persons who sponsor seats in the center by giving $1,000 or more over a five-year period may have a chair named in honor of a relative, friend or alumni if they wish."

Many $1,000 donors have chosen to be billed $100 semi-annually for 5 years. This program makes a substantial donation feasible for most alumni and friends.

Foundation Report

Dr. Kent Wyatt, congratulates foundation board president, Louis Baioni (Class of '56), Executive Vice President of Dunavant Enterprises, Inc. of Memphis, on his personal pledge of $100,000 to the $5 million campaign currently underway at the university.

Planned Giving Committee Established

As a valuable part of the "Campaign for Delta State", the Foundation Development Program has established a planned giving committee which will direct its efforts toward the development of support through wills, life insurance, securities and trusts.

If you wish to support the University through these types of gifts or if you would like more information, please contact the Planned Giving Committee, DSU, Box 3141, Cleveland, MS 38733 or 1-800-468-6378

Gulf South Conference Expands!

The nation's largest Division II conference is even bigger this year, as the Gulf South Conference has added five more institutions.

Joining Delta State in the GSC West this year will be Arkansas-Monticello, Arkansas Tech and Southern Arkansas, all former members of the NAIA Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference. In addition, Christian Brothers University, in Memphis, was officially accepted to join the GSC in 1996-1997. Mississippi College will drop out of the GSC and move to Division III in 1996-97.

The GSC Basketball alignment in the GSC West will be listed below:

Delta State
Arkansas-Monticello
Arkansas Tech
Central Arkansas
Henderson State
Mississippi College
MS University for Women
Southern Arkansas

Here They Come!

In Coach Todd Knight's third season with the Statesmen, things look primed for a Delta explosion in 1995.

The club returns 30 of 49 lettermen from last year's 3-5-2 squad that faced seven nationally-ranked opponents and finished 5th in the Gulf South Conference. At first glance, a fifth-place showing may not seem overly glamorous, but consider that North Alabama and Valdosta State finished one and two, respectively, and made the NCAA Division II playoffs and then went a combined 5-1 in the postseason. Central Arkansas and West Georgia were both ranked in the national top 20 most of the season.

Behind all that potential lies a cast of ripe talent ready to bloom with seasoned quarterback, David Crowe, leading the way.

"Offensively, we have an experienced quarterback in David Crowe and top-notch receivers in Parker Stubbs and Keith Watts," said Knight. "Our offensive line and running backs are very young, but we have a lot incoming talent at those positions that should make us very solid."

On defense, Delta State should be one of the Gulf South's best with 8 starters returning from the 1994 unit.

In terms of recruiting, Knight said "this is the best class since I've been here. We have a great mix of high school and junior college talent coming in."

Delta State has a full, 11-game schedule this year, including eight conference games. Knight concludes, "We will definitely surprise a lot of teams this year."

Women's Basketball

Not since the Lady Statesmen competed at the NCAA Division I level from 1983-1985 has Delta State had such a competitive schedule. That, according to 13th-year head coach Lloyd Clark, is the challenge his team will have to overcome in 1995-1996.

This season will feature three newcomers to the Gulf South Conference as well as hearty non-conference games.

"We'll play Air Force, Angelo State, Rollins, North Alabama. Couple that with a very strong GSC West schedule and we will see some very good competition this season," Clark said.

The Lady Statesmen look as if they may be up to the challenges awaiting them this winter with three starters and 10 letter-winners returning from last year's 22-8 squad.

this winter with four starters and six lettermen back from last year's 18-9 team.

As for repeating atop the West Division, the Statesmen will contend with the three league newcomers in addition to the three West powers Henderson State, Central Arkansas and 1995 NCAA qualifier Mississippi College.

"It's going to be a war in the West Division," said 10th-year head coach Steve Rives. "We have the ability to do anything we want this season. Only time will tell what we do with all that potential."

Swim Team Celebrates with 10 Year Reunion

Coach Ronnie Mayers is celebrating 10 years of coaching Delta State's Swim teams. "We are the only collegiate swim team in the state and I can hardly believe we have been at it for 10 years."

All former swimmers and divers are invited back to campus February 3, 1996 for a 10 year reunion. For more information, call Coach Mayers at 601-846-4730. We also need help with updating addresses of former swimmers.

DSU Softball Has Record Season

Delta State's softball team ended a tremendous 1995 campaign last Spring. The Lady Statesmen finished the season with a 32-12 record, 8-7 in the GSC. And what a season it was. All told, 11 school records were either tied or broken.

"I'm proud," said head coach John Garriss. "We told our players from the beginning that if you work hard good things will happen. And that's exactly how things turned out."

Pre-season, DSU was picked to finish last in the division.

Left: Rob Armour and Tory Armour, siblings from Southaven, Mississippi, played varsity tennis for Delta State University in the Spring of 1995. Rob was also President of the Student Government Association.

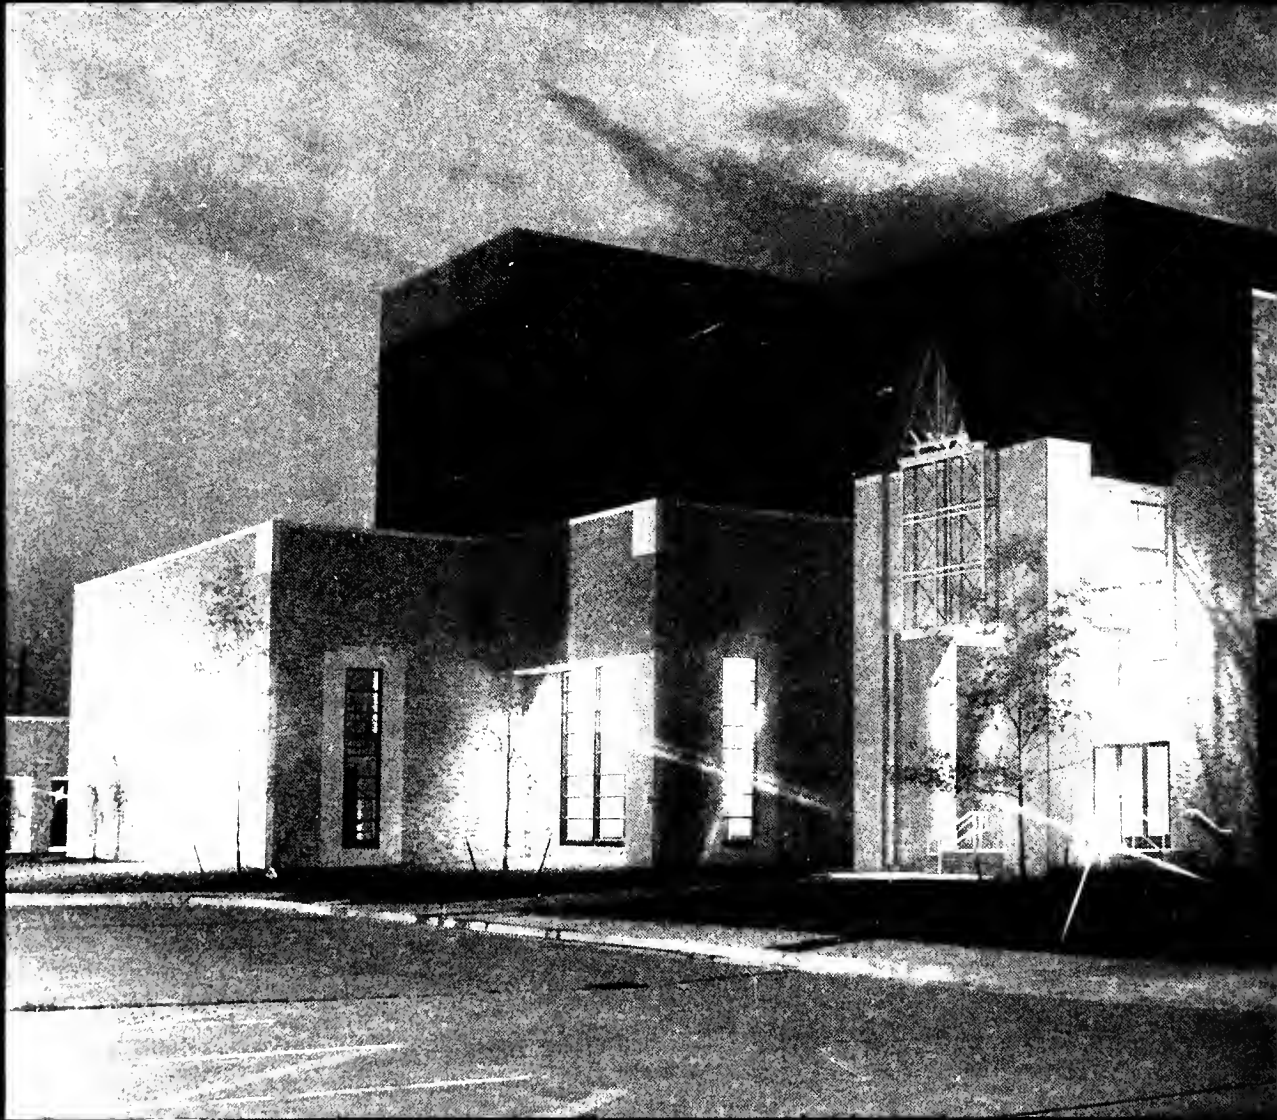

Spring Baseball Round-Up

The 1995 Statesmen finished the year with a record of 40 wins and 16 losses. They won the Western division of the Gulf South Conference and lost in the GSC tournament. With the exceptional record, they still received a bid to play in the NCAA regional tournament, but again fell short by losing to North Alabama in the second round. Delta State did beat Valdosta State in the first round of the regionals, and then Valdosta State came through the loser's bracket to win the regional tournament and go on to the world series. The baseball Statesmen return five position starters and three pitchers for the upcoming 1996 season.

Men's Basketball Outlook

After winning the competitive Gulf South Conference West Division regular season title a year ago and finishing second in the GSC Tournament, the Statesmen of Delta State aspire to take their winning ways a step further

Performing

Arts Center

Delta State University's new Performing Arts Center is in the midst of its Grand Opening Season. With a seating capacity of 1200, the state of the art facility will be the focal point for cultural entertainment in the Delta. Make your plans now to take part in the opening of this exciting new era in Delta performing arts activities.

The new Performing Arts Center at Delta State University, the only facility of its kind in northern Mississippi, has grand plans for its 1995 premier schedule. The center opened with a performance by Marvin Hamlisch. Other scheduled events for the Fall include the Mississippi Symphony Orchestra, Bruce Levingston, the Will Rogers Follies and the Ballet Folklórico De Mexico. Scheduled Spring events include the Moscow Ballet performing the Nutcracker and the St. Petersburg Symphony.

Residents of the Delta are excited about the major arts and performances attraction. Chuck Jordan, past Greenville Arts Council President said, "It's a huge asset for the Delta." Another Arts Council member Georgie Fisher commented, "It's breathtaking that we would have Marvin Hamlisch or the Will Rogers Follies right here in the Delta. It's amazing that we won't have to go to Jackson or Memphis."

Currently, Delta State is holding a drive to raise funds for a $2 million endowment which will help support programming. "This money will be used to help bring nationally and internationally acclaimed performers to the Delta," said DSU President Dr. Kent Wyatt. A $1,000 patron contribution will sponsor one of the theatre's 1,200 chairs. Patrons will have priority seating for all events and will be treated to a series of receptions prior to the events, Wyatt added. Patrons can pay over a three to five year period.

Pat Halloran, president of the foundation which operates the Orpheum theatre on Beale Street in Memphis and consultant to Delta State, envies the DSU facility. "I wish I had some of the things you have down there," he said, citing the deep stage, modern technology and continental seating.

"Continental seating is much more accommodating to the patron, and it really is the new state of the art seating design," Halloran said.

Construction of the Performing Arts Center was completed last spring. The $8.5 million, 37,000-square foot facility features 1200 seats, technologically advanced acoustics, a large orchestra pit for touring productions and a 130-seat recital hall.

Both tradition and change will be found at DSU when alumni and friends return to campus on October 28, 1995, for homecoming.

"We know Leila Lyle Underhill will keep the tradition," said Vicki Fioranelli of the alumni staff, "because she has not missed a homecoming since 1940 when she graduated."

Change will be found in the location of registration and the Koffee Klatches. The meetings will take place in the new Performing Arts Center just behind Ziegel Hall.

Renaissance will open the 10:30 concert and two alumni from the class of 1955 will be featured--Chalie Carroll Ray of Hattiesburg will sing and Letha Cole Crouch of San Antonio will be at the piano.

The parade will begin at 1:30 in front of the H.L. Nowell Union.

"The fun run has been canceled," according to assistant alumni director Brad Teague, "because of poor participation."

Don Skelton, alumni director, encourages everyone to attend the alumni luncheon in the Union where outstanding alumnus James Rogers will speak. The '65 Football team will be honored along with the Classes of 1935, '45, '55, '65, '75 and '85.

On Friday night a special banquet will be held at Cleveland Country Club for the Class of '45. At that time they will be inducted into the "50 Year Golden Circle."

A parade will circle the quad starting at 1:30 with Outstanding Alumnus, James Rogers serving as grand marshal.

Following the parade various open houses and reunions are scheduled with the alumni house
